CITIZENS' TICKET.

FOR THE SENATE,
M. H. CLAYTOR,
Of Roanoke County.

FOR THE HOUSE OF DELEGATES,
B. A. JONES,
Of Roanoke City.
J. L. HANNAH,
Of Roanoke County.

To the Voters of the Fourth Senatorial District and the Election District for House of Delegates, composed of Roanoke and Craig and the City of Roanoke:

We, the undersigned members of the steering committee, appointed by the Petersburg "Fair Elections Conference," endorse the action of the conference held at Salem, and urge all voters in said districts in favor of honest elections, irrespective of party lines, to vote for the candidates nominated by that conference, viz.: For Senate, M. H. Claytor; for House of Delegates, B. A. Jones, John L. Hannah.

Respectfully,

JAMES A. WALKER,

E. P. BUFORD,

W. T. SIMPSON, Committee.

October 7, 1895.

The mercury in the political thermometer is climbing up.

TOM WATSON, notwithstanding his recent defeat in the race for Congress in the Tenth Georgia District, is still cheerful and spilling for another run. He has already given notice over his own signature that when 1896 comes he will be "a candidate for Congress, as usual." It is evident that he does not fully realize the situation. A man that has been beaten twice so easily and at such a short interval ought to be willing to hold back and give some other member of his party a chance. However, he may understand better "where he is at" next summer.

JOHN DERN, the German-American, who lately left Lunenburg county because of alleged persecution there and settled in Richmond, was taken back a few days ago to answer the charge of stealing tobacco. He asserted his innocence, declaring that the charge and arrest was the work of his enemies in the county, and such seems to have been the case, as, when he appeared for trial in Lunenburg, no evidence against him was forthcoming. Judge Orgain, therefore, dismissed the complaint, and Dern is once more a free man. While the German may not be a very desirable citizen in some respects, the treatment to which he has been subjected in Lunenburg will certainly not commend the county especially as a place of residence for men of Dern's nationality.

The sun from its perpendicular height, shines beaming into the depths of the sea; The waves, beginning to swell, Cry "Good Lord, how hot we shall be!"

The bright sunshine of truth that is beginning to direct its rays on the political comb of place-hunters in Roanoke is beginning to make some of the "boys" sweat. Most men can keep cool and wear a genial smile when a flush tide is running in their direction. When adversity is upon a man and defeat before him he is apt to unconsciously exhibit to the world a true picture of both his heart and his mind. The time to take a man's measure is when he is down. If the "boys" who have charge of the Democratic party machinery in this city will approach their doom (election day) with the calm dignity of one who folds the drapery of his couch about him and lies down to peaceful dreams, it will be a consolation to the mourners. The Times will cheerfully contribute to a fund for a monument and suggests the following as an appropriate inscription: "Sacred to the memory of the 'boys' who stood by the 'machine' until the grease gave out."

THE PEOPLE OUGHT TO KNOW.

The people have a right to know the records of those who serve them in a public capacity, and the attempt to deny publications bearing legitimately thereon is the work only of ignorant and arrogant minds. The candidate or public servant whose acts as an officeholder will not bear the strictest investigation is not worthy of the confidence or the support of the constituency whose suffrages he seeks, and it is the part of wisdom for all concerned in the present political canvass to bear this fact well in mind.

THE TIMES makes no charges in this connection, but it gives notice beforehand that, as it has in the past, it will in the future let the public know in all fairness and justice what the servants of the people are doing, and, when necessary, what they have done. A journal which would shrink such a record responsibility or resort to quibbles and dogmatism in its efforts to defend its favorite is not deserving of the least consideration and the sooner it is silenced by its friends the better it will be for the candidates and the party which they represent.

In justice to the gentlemen composing the opposition ticket THE TIMES takes it for granted that they are far too sensible to countenance or approve such a mistaken policy. They are, or ought to be, wise enough to know that the truth will out, and that it is better to face an issue manfully than by evasions, quibbles and senseless retorts seek to blind the people to the real facts in the case. They know also that a public man must stand or fall on his acts as such, and that the political records of all candidates are legitimate subjects of comment or criticism, as the occasion demands.

In this canvass THE TIMES has aimed to be fair in its statements, and has avoided personalities in all of its allusions to the candidates or the campaign, except in so far as political acts and practices are concerned. The public, however, have a right to know, as said before, all about the men who seek their support in order that they may cast their ballots intelligently, and to the furtherance of the best interests of the community.

Personal abuse and bulldozing can accomplish nothing in this community except to injure the side that resorts to such weapons. A free, full and fair discussion of public men and measures is all the people want, and the side that supports its assertions with reason and argument is the only one that ought to win.

THE POPE'S LETTER.

He Opposes the Holding of Congresses of Religion.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Oct. 17.—Archbishop Kainer has received a copy of the letter of Pope Leo, sent to Monsignor Satolli, bearing on religious congresses. From the tone of the letter it would seem evident that in the future Catholics will not meet with Protestant bodies, but conduct their conventions separately, though open to all, with the privilege of allowing the members of other denominations to ask any questions they may see fit.

No reference is made to the world's religious congress in particular, and neither is there a single word which can be termed derogatory to the great convention. The document is typewritten in Latin, and addressed to Monsignor Satolli. It simply states that the knowledge of such conventions being held has come to the attention of the pope, and he expresses the conviction that it would be better perhaps for Catholics to meet separately.

Pullman Car Company Dividend.

CHICAGO, Oct. 17.—Stockholders of the Pullman Palace Car Company held their annual meeting here to-day. Over $25,000,000 of the capital stock was represented. The president's report showed that during the past year a contract had been made with the Mobile and Ohio Railroad Company for a period of twenty-five years. The usual quarterly dividend of $2 per share was declared payable November 15.

The Durrant Case.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 17.—Durrant's attorneys expect to conclude the case of the defense next Monday. There is no truth in the report that the counsel for Durrant has disagreed, and that Duprey was making an excuse of his opportune illness to get out of the case. The most perfect harmony exists between General Dickinson and Mr. Duprey.

Twine Mill Burned.

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Oct. 17.—The Empire Corderge Company's large twine mill was destroyed by fire to-night. Loss, $100,000; insurance, $90,000. The fire started in the dust mill from a hot box and spread rapidly. The stockholders of the company reside in St. Louis and New York.

Miss Guild Will Christen the Nashville.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 17.—Ex-Mayor George B. Guild, Miss Guild and party left last night for Newport News to be present at the launching of the gunboat Nashville on Saturday. Miss Guild will christen the boat.

Insurgents Will Use Dynamite.

HAVANA, Oct. 17.—The insurgents in the province of Santa Clara have circulated pamphlets advising the inhabitants not to use the railroads, as they have determined to blow them up with dynamite.

Old Board and Officers Re-elected.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 17.—The stockholders of the Nashville and Decatur railroad held their annual meeting yesterday and re-elected the old board of directors and the old officers.

Russia's Fleet Ordered to the Porpoises. LONDON, Oct. 17.—An Odessa dispatch to the Times says that the Black Sea Russian fleet has been hastily ordered to cruise near the mouth of the Porpoises.

Cholera Decreasing in Russia.

LONDON, Oct. 18.—The Odessa correspondent of the Times says that cholera is gradually decreasing in intensity throughout Southern Russia.

Baby McKee Improving.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Oct. 17.—Master Benjamin McKee, who has scarlet fever, is doing as well as could be expected. He is still quarantined, as is Mrs. J. R. McKee and ex-President Harrison.

The Bankers Adjourn.

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 17.—After applauding the name of Cleveland and electing Eugene H. Pullen, president, the American Bankers' Association today adjourned sine die.

Bank Cashier and Money Missing.

DULUTH, Minn., Oct. 17.—C. H. Stucky, cashier of the State Bank, is missing, and with him $15,000 of the bank's cash.

W. K. ANDREWS & CO., 219 Salem avenue, handle Pocahontas, Russell Creek, Thacker, Banner, Brush Mountain, Anthracite and Semi-Bituminous, Red Ash coal; also crushed coke and wood.

"Tote Fair."

If you're having your clothes made out of town, be fair; let us show you what we have before giving your order.

We don't believe any better made or better fitting garments have ever been made in or out of Roanoke than what our Tailoring Department is turning out.

We have the finest garment-makers and the pick of the season's patterns. Our $20 suits are made with the same care as our $40. We'll duplicate any price. Your money back if you're not satisfied. Can we say fairer than this?

OVERCOATS TO MEASURE.

GILKESON & CHILD,

THE PROPOSED PRIZE FIGHT.

The Chances for the Mill at Hot Springs Much Improved.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Oct. 17.—The chances for a meeting at Hot Springs on October 21 between Corbett and Fitzsimmons appear to be much brighter to-night than at any time during the past few days. Indeed, it would now seem that the only obstacle in the way of the men meeting in a glove contest is Fitzsimmons' expressed determination not to agree to the revised articles.

Governor Clarke returned from Hot Springs to-day. His conference with the citizens committee certainly made an impression on the governor, but what that impression is no one knows and the governor himself stoutly refuses to say anything on the subject. When questioned in regard to his visit to Hot Springs the governor merely said that he had gone there in response to a telegram from Brigadier General Taylor and that he had been present at a meeting of the citizens committee and others interested when the subject of prize fights, boxing matches and kindred sports was discussed.

The fact that Corbett was arrested on a warrant sworn out by State's Attorney Tugues so soon after governor Clarke's visit to the Springs leads many people to believe that the Governor has decided to let the courts settle the whole matter.

No Fight at all in Arkansas.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Oct. 17.—Brigadier-General Taylor, of the Arkansas State Guard, returned from Hot Springs this evening. After a conference with Governor Clarke, General Taylor said the prize fight would not occur at Hot Springs nor in Arkansas, not even in the modified way that had been proposed. General Taylor said that he had been requested by Governor Clarke to remain in this city for the present. He had found the best people of Hot Springs in favor of the contest.

The Fight May be in Mexico.

EL PASO, Texas, Oct. 19.—Dispatches received from Hot Springs this afternoon encourage the idea that the Corbett-Fitzsimmons fight may be pulled off in Juarez, Mexico, but the management will make no official announcement.

A SOUTH CAROLINA LYONING.

William Blake Taken From the Sheriff and Hanged.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Oct. 17.—A special to the Register from Hampton, S. C., says: Wm. Blake, Sr., Jason Blake, Prince Graves and William Frasier were convicted this evening of the murder of Mr. Raymond Meares on the 6th of August last. Wm. Blake, Sr., was recommended to the mercy of the court and his sentence was life imprisonment. The other three were sentenced to be hanged on the 6th of December next.

After the prisoners were sentenced it was evident that there was dissatisfaction at the jury's recommendation to mercy for William Blake, Sr., and some persons were heard to say that Blake would never reach the penitentiary. The convicted men, as soon as court adjourned, about 7:30 o'clock, were handcuffed and taken out of the court room.

On their way to jail, within a few feet of the prison, the sheriff and his constables were overpowered by a number of men and William Blake, Sr., and William Frasier, who were handcuffed together, were forced from the custody of the constables and taken off into the woods. The handcuffs were unlocked in some way and Frasier was returned to the custody of the jailer.

The crowd, numbering about fifty men, proceeded to a dense piece of woods about one-half mile from the courthouse and hung Wm. Blake, Sr., with a line to the limb of a large pine tree. Several shots were fired into his body and the crowd dispersed. The coroner's jury returned a verdict that Wm. Blake, Sr., came to his death at the hands of parties unknown to the jury. All is quiet at this hour, 10 p. m.

A Big Brained Major.

An amusing incident occurred while a company of a certain battalion stationed in one of our garrison towns were going through their musketry training. Owing to a strong wind blowing from the right, the bullets kept falling to the left of the target. An old major, who was in charge at the ranges, came over to the color sergeant and inquired the cause of the bad shooting. On being told that there was too much wind blowing from the right, causing the shots to fall wide, he astonished the sergeant by asking, "Wouldn't it be a good idea if the targets were moved more to the left?" The color sergeant barely restrained a smile.—London Tit-Bits.

Disguising Themselves.

A drunkard, who knew his weakness, took the precaution the other day (writes James Payn) of attaching a label to "I am out for the day," said the label. "When I am boozed, tie this to my buttonhole and send me home." What was very ingenious—the magistrate before whom he was summoned thought it too ingenious—he did not write his own name and address on the label, but that of his employer. This reminds one of the presence of mind, but absence of principle, exhibited by Sheridan, who, being picked up drunk in the gutter and asked his name by the constable, replied, with a snigger, "I am the great and good Mr. Wilberforce."—Argonaut.

AMUSEMENTS.

Corinne in "Hendrick Hudson, Jr.," on Saturday, October 19.

Corinne, the merry and dashing comedienne, has made superb advancement in her art, according to the testimony of the most reliable exchanges that come to this office, this improvement being especially prominent in her singing and fun-making. These are characteristics and particularly well set off her new part. She is supported by the Kimball Opera Comique Company of sixty people, and she will be seen in the title role of the extravaganza, "Hendrick Hudson, Jr." It is a jolly and melodious piece, fully up to date, and so gorgeously mounted and dressed that it surpasses, far and away, any of the previous successful ventures of Mrs. Kimball. Corinne's musical accomplishments are numerous. Her mandolin playing has attracted the attention of every prominent musical critic in America. While in Paris this summer Corinne took lessons from the greatest living mandolin player, Signor Pietrapertosa. Corinne also took advantage of her trip to Paris by securing several costumes from Daouca.

The company embraces the names of well known and popular artists, the most prominent of which are Ben. F. Greneville, Charles Fostelle, Harry Dietz, Lindsay Morrison, Barney McDonough, J. Henry Mac, Frank Hayden, the Nichols Sisters (Mabel and Lila), Lillian Knott, Fannie Dacosta and Georgia Rush, and an exceptionally strong chorus of thirty-six voices. Some of the more gorgeous scenes include the Everglades of Florida, the Egyptian Palace, New Amsterdam in 1609, the Falls of Niagara, the Santa Marie, the Midway Plaisance, the Real Steam Launch. This is one of Manager Hooper's strongest attractions of the season and the Academy should be packed.

Gilmore's Magnificent Band and "A Ride for Life," October 22.

Gilmore's magnificent old band is coming again on Tuesday afternoon, October 22, for a grand concert at the Opera House at 2 p. m. together with Miss Ida Klein, the famous prima donna, formerly of the great Metropolitan opera New York, and also of opera fame in Europe. Ida Klein was the favorite singer of the late Patrick Sarsfield Gilmore. Of course Victor Herbert directs Gilmore's and he will also appear in a solo number that day. Gilmore's band is larger by ten men than when it was last here and the added ten make all the difference in the world. The great old band has been a real live sensation at the Cotton States Exposition for five weeks. It is said to be far better than when it was out last spring, for it is larger and has had six months more daily practice, most of the time in concert.

There are a number of special soloists with the band: H. L. Clarke, cornet; E. H. Clarke, trombone; Sig. De Carlo, piccolo; Julius Spindler, flute, and Adria J. Gerv, autoharp. The addition of Miss Ida Klein, also, is a feature that makes the Gilmore concerts the finest ever yet arranged.

That same evening Eugene Robinson's New York Dramatic Company will present "A Ride For Life," a splendid drama, and by special arrangement Manager Hooper will sell tickets good for admission to the afternoon Gilmore concert and the evening performance of "A Ride For Life" for $1. Or if persons only desire to see either of the performances tickets can be had for each at 50 cents. The sale of seats will commence to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock.

Know Hood's Cured

Because It Made Pure Blood.

"I was all run down and could not sleep at night on account of the continuous and severe pains through my body. I had also stomach troubles and catarrh. After taking Hood's Sarsaparilla a short time I commenced to improve, and after using three bottles in all, my complaint entirely left me. I now have an appetite, sleep well and am free from all stomach trouble. I know Hood's Sarsaparilla has cured me, and I cheerfully recommend its use by all women who are run down and need a building up medicine." Miss ALICE WRAY, W. Bridgewater, Pa.

Watts—Do you think it does any good to belong to so many lodges?
Potts—Well, when I went over to Europe, I used to add the initials of all of them to my name when I registered at a hotel, and got all sorts of deference from the clerks and waiters.—Indianapolis Journal.

Important Information.

A newly engaged colored waiter entered the breakfast room of an Austin hotel and said in a loud voice:
"I dare any gentlemen here for San Antonio? De train's jess left!"—Texas Sittings.

Denmark was at first Denmark.

Denmark was at first Denmark, or the mark or limit set by Dan, a Scandinavian chief who claimed jurisdiction over its territories.

Over 70 lamps have been found ranged around the walls of one Etruscan tomb.

Worth's Predecessor.

Worth was not Europe's first distinguished man milliner, as has been supposed. In the reign of Louis XV a Bavarian named Rohmberg became the fashion in Paris as a maker of ladies' habits. He gained the reputation of being skillful in hiding little deformities in the figure, and his vogue was immense. When he died, at the untimely age of 40, he left a fortune of $250,000, a vast sum for a tradesman to accumulate in those days. In the first empire Leroy dressed all the princesses of the imperial court.

Seeing Double.

The two eyes really see two objects. If the two forefingers be held, one at the distance of a foot, the other two feet in front of the eyes, and the former looked at, two phantoms of the latter will be observed, one on each side. If the latter finger be regarded, two phantoms of the nearer finger will be observed mounting guard, one on either side.
